Farewell Party Enjoyed

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Geisbrecht were honored at a farewell party in the Elks Hall on January 5th when the Coleman Elks Patrol Team and their wives gathered for the occasion. Following an enjoyable supper Mrs. Ruth Findlay called on Mrs. Geisbrecht and presented her with a corsage after which Captain of the Patrol Team Pete Meronuk called on Drill Team member Bruce Geisbrecht and presented him with a farewell gift of Elks Cuff Links and Tie Bar. Mr. Geisbrecht ably expressed his thanks for the gift. An evening of dancing was then enjoyed with the music provided by Pete Meronuk.

Bruce as he is better known to all his acquaintances in the Pass came to the Crow's Nest Pass as a Constable in the RCMP. After serving here for some time he left the force and married Miss Gladys Stonehouse. He gained employment as a bookkeeper for Canadian Bechtel while they were in the Pass and afterwards worked at the Little Chief Service Station here.

Happy New Year

While most of us have good prospects for a Happy New Year, happiness is unknown to this little derelict child in the village of Marcanise, Italy. Foster Parents' Plan sent us the photo to remind our readers that, for $16 a month as an individual or as a member of a group, you can financially "adopt" this child or one in similar circumstances in Europe, the Far East or Colombia, South America. If you agree that this might be a good New Year's Resolution, write for complete information to: Foster Parents' Plan P.O. Box 65, Station B, Montreal.

Little Damage In Fire

The Coleman Volunteer Fire Brigade were called out just before 6:00 a.m. on Wednesday morning of last week to extinguish a blaze that started in the John W. Bellamy home on Second Street. Quick action on the part of the brigade resulted in only minor damage being done to the interior wall of the home. The fire started in a hot oil register from an overheated coal furnace and firemen had to remove some stoneboard on the wall to prevent the fire from spreading. Insurance was carried on the frame home.

Pass Gripped By 40 Below Zero Weather

Residents in the Pass experienced the coldest snap of the winter this past week as temperatures in some areas dropped to a cool 45 below zero. Fanned by an icy wind the cold snap caused many motorists grief as cars left outside froze solid and resulted in garages in the Pass doing a booming business. Thursday morning's coldest reading was 36 below while on Friday the temperature dropped to the 45 mark. Clear weather accompanied the cold weather and on Thursday evening winds changed from the East to West and by Saturday morning the temperatures had returned to a more normal four below zero. Only a very light fall of snow of not over two inches fell during the periods of the cold snap.

A mobile testing laboratory has been designed and constructed for use under the Highway Research Program being conducted co-operatively by the Provincial Department of Highways, the Alberta Research Council and the University of Alberta.

The Highway Research Division of the Alberta Research Council were instrumental in the design and construction of this portable testing laboratory. The unit measures 20 feet long by 8 feet wide and is towed by a light truck.

Its principal use is to conduct on-the-spot tests on sampled roadway materials taken from a highway which is in use. Studies are conducted on performance of various types of highway construction and an evaluation is made of constructed surfaces periodically as their age increases. Information obtained is utilized to improve the structural design of pavements in the province.

F. J. Lote To Retire January 18

The date of my retirement as manager of the local office, NES is drawing close, January 18, 1963. I would like to take this opportunity therefore of expressing my thoughts on leaving the Civil Service after serving the public here for over 20 years, commencing September 2, 1942.

During my term of office I have seen the Pass area go through many phases of industrial ups and downs, and also through the war years. However, I can say in all sincerity, that I have enjoyed my work and the many personal contacts and friends over the years, and these associations will always remain with me.

The wonderful co-operation and assistance of all employers of the Crow's Nest Pass and the Press and Unions of the area have meant much in making a success of my office operation.

I appreciate also very much the public contacts and hope I have been able to help in some way through the administration of this office over the past 20 years.

The new manager replacing me is Mr. T. M. Robertson of Winnipeg, Man.

Mr. Robertson has been with the Commission since 1945 and for the last 14 months has been in-charge of St. Boniface, Man., branch office. I know the employers and public will give Mr. Robertson the same co-operation as I have received in the past.

My plans for the future are at present vague, but I do hope to be around with more time to enjoy the good fellowship of the people of the Crow's Nest Pass, and may I say a sincere thanks to everyone.

Yours truly,
FRANCIS J. LOTE,
Manager, N.E.S.,
Blairmore, Alberta.

OF MANY THINGS

By Ambrose Hills

In her splendid book, Your Prayers and Mine, Elizabeth Yates attributes the following prayer to Sir Francis Drake, the great explorer:

"O Lord God, when Thou givest to Thy servants to endeavor any great matter, grant us also to know that it is not the beginning, but the continuing of the same, until it be thoroughly finished, which yieldeth the true glory."

That collection of prayers has been in print for almost ten years; but Miss Yates says that before it was published it had been rejected by dozens of publishing houses. She persisted in improving it and mailing it out until it was finally accepted, and then succeeded beyond all expectations. A person of lesser faith would have given up on it after a few tries and put it aside. Miss Yates, inspired by the Drake prayer, knew the power and value of persistence.

Many of us will require this kind of persistence if we are to live up to all the good resolutions we made at the start of 1963. They sounded reasonably easy when made; the glory will be in seeing them through and sticking to them until they form part of our lives.

This nation will require a similar kind of persistence if it is to weather the stormy seas of world competition during the coming year. In 1962, because it was necessary, our government had the courage to initiate some rigid self discipline. Spending was cut in many departments. The good results were striking. Let us hope that the will to continue policies of sound economic sense will persist through 1963.

Labour and Management seemed to adopt, together, a new and better spirit of co-operation during the past year. Forced to stand together against competitors from other countries instead of fighting each other, they went at it with a will, determined to make Canadian goods as competitive as possible. Let us hope they persist in this attitude.

Persistence is an undervalued virtue. It has a rather dull ring to it, connotations of drudgery and plodding effort, rather than zest and adventure. Don't be fooled. It is a rugged, powerful virtue that in the end brings rewards of true grandeur. Try it, persistently, in 1963.

Many Fire Victims Get Red Cross Aid

In the week from January 3rd to 10th, over 165 items of bedding and clothing, as well as dozens of health kits, were shipped from the Provincial Red Cross Headquarters in Calgary to provide emergency aid to some 45 victims of fire disasters at points in the province.

Within minutes of receiving a call for aid to fire victims at Fort St. John Thursday morning (Jan 10) the Provincial office had alerted its Edmonton Branch and emergency supplies were in process of being packed for the 20 disaster victims. Additional supplies of health kits, made by Junior Red Cross members and containing basic health needs, were shipped by bus from Calgary to Edmonton.

Red Cross supplies of bedding and health kits were also shipped to Cardston Thursday for relief of a couple and their 5 children whose home was completely destroyed by fire early Wednesday morning. Local Red Cross representatives in Cardston were also providing needed food and clothing for the burned out family.

Additional disaster aid supplied from Red Cross Divisional Office in Calgary during the past week includes 30 items of clothing, bedding and health kits for a burned-out family of 5 at Pembroke; supplies of clothing and health needs for 7 victims of a fire at St.

Paul and 37 items of clothing, bedding and infant's wear for a family of 5 who were burned out of their home at Barhead.

Set Safety Course For Instructors

Launching the 1963 Red Cross Water Safety program in Calgary, a 10-week Instructor Training course for adults is scheduled to commence at the YWCA in mid-January.

The course which will open on January 15 at 7:30 p.m. will consist of 10 weekly evening sessions under the direction of Red Cross instructors, K. A. Hodgert and R. P. White.

All candidates for the course must be 18 years of age or over, and should be competent swimmers with ability to equal requirements for the Red Cross Senior Swimmer award.

Persons wishing further information on the training course should contact Mrs. Rita Foster at the YWCA, phone AM-31550.

Home Second Only To Traffic as Accident Location

The home, where everything seems so safe, rated second only to motor traffic as the location for accidents.

In co-operation with the Bureau of Statistics, the National Safety League of Canada reported accidents, poisonings and violence took 11,229 lives in Canada in 1961. Violence alone was responsible for 1583 deaths.

Following the home as accident locations were water transport and resident institutions.

The six leading causes of accidental death, after motor vehicles were falls, drownings, suffocation, fire and explosions and poisonings in that order. The rest were due to railway, aircraft and others.

Among children under one year of age, accidental suffocation claimed the highest number of lives, the League reports.

Drownings occurred more frequently in the 15 - 24 year age group.

Wife usually makes final decision

The wife usually makes the final decision whether her husband will buy this house or that one.

A survey made by the University of Illinois showed that in seven of every eight cases, the wife decides where the house will be built or bought, and the type it will be.

The survey found also that women often chose one house over another because of one unusual feature of the construction or layout or equipment.

Contractors realize this, and are capitalizing by adding little features to catch the housewife's eye. These features are called "triggering devices" by the industry.

The feature that triggers the wife may be a fine chandelier in the dining room or sliding doors, or a marble slab on the fireplace, usually an attraction that costs the contractor little but pays off in sales.

Resonant Wood

The use of wood in church buildings is backed by traditional modern acoustical research.

The president of Northwest Christian College had this to say after hearing the same choral group, under the direction of the same conductor, in a series of concerts in various churches:

"During the past several years, the Chapel Choir of Northwest Christian College has appeared in about 100 churches in the Northwest. Without exception, those churches which used wood mainly for interior finishing proved to provide the best resonance along with other acoustical qualities, that are of primary importance in a church building."

Dear Mr. Holstead:
 Enclosed is a cheque to pay for my Journal which I have always enjoyed receiving, and to extend the subscription for another year. There are so many changes going on in the world, I want to keep in touch.

We visited Coleman in July of 1961, but only over a week-end—we had come down from Calgary, and were on our way back to the States. July is a bad time to visit, as we didn't find many people at home. They were on vacation, too.

Elaine (12) and Alan (8) loved the mountains and would like to have stayed longer. Alan found a horse's skull—a few bones up on the hill back of Kerr's Chinook cabins and he brought them all the way back to Ohio. He's even taken them to school and "shared" them! Both children would love to visit there again.

I'm hoping we can soon
 Our best wishes to you all in 1963.

Sincerely,
 OLWEN BROWN

 - (a) seismicographic recording equipment and all appurtenances thereto,
 - (b) conductor cables and cable reels, geophones, amplifiers and cameras,
 - (c) explosive and detonating equipment,
 - (d) drilling units and all of the component parts and appurtenances thereof, and
 - (e) water tanks and pumping equipment, but

 - (a) vehicles licensed under The Vehicles and Highway Traffic Act, or The Public Service Vehicles Act, exclusive of mounted equipment on such vehicles, and
 - (b) equipment, other than vehicle mounted equipment, used to drill a gas or oil well;
- (e) "municipality" means a town, village, municipal district, county, improvement district, special area, metis improvement district or forest reserve.
- (f) "owner" includes a person renting mobile equipment or having the exclusive use thereof under a rental agreement or otherwise;

NOTE: Mobile Equipment having an original list price of less than $2,000 does not require a license under this Act. A copy of The Mobile Equipment Licensing Act may be obtained upon payment of ten cents from the Office of the Queen's Printer, 10255 - 104 Street, Edmonton, Alberta.
